NDIA

The NDIA

The National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) is the government organisation that runs the NDIS.

Participant

This is the person who has the NDIS plan - the scheme holder. That's you, or your loved one!

Reasonable and Necessary

The NDIS will provide funding to a participant that is considered reasonable and necessary for each individual. The supports that are requested/provided must relate to your disability.

Choice and control

The aim of the NDIS is to give you choice and control over the support you need, when you need it, how you need it and where you need it from.

Change of circumstances

A form that can be completed to instigate an NDIS plan review because of changes to disability-related support needs, such as moving house, or retiring from work.

Review of reviewable decision

This needs to be completed within the first three months of the NDIS plan date. This can be submitted if you do not agree with a decision made by the NDIA.
